FEATURING
RICHARD C. TRAVERS

This is a thrilling red blooded drama of life in the raw. It deals with the rugged primitive characters of the logging camps. It is a story of a man battling with a bear; a fight to the death for supremacy and the love of a maid. It is a man hunt, a savage pitiless pursuit to kill, that stirs the blood and thrills every fiber of the human heart.

EIGHTEEN THINK IT UNNECESSARY

Elmer Basehoar Says he Bought Whiskey from Klinefelter himself. Afternoon Testimony Proves to be Important.

Of eighteen witnesses examined during the morning hearing of the Hotel Washington license case, Jere Plank and Amos Delap vied with each other in trying to give damaging testimony. They were hostile from every point of view, Delap, the last witness of the morning period, becoming decidedly agitated, volunteered information that was ordered stricken from the records.

With these exceptions the testimony was of a more or less tame variety and differed little in any instance. Every witness of the period thought the hotel was unnecessary and many of them declared they were opposed to licenses for any place. No one examined except Prof. Stephen Wing, of the college, said he had made any special study of conditions.

Dr. John A. Himes said he had frequently observed drunken men about the place as he passed, that he observed the unpleasant odor of liquor emanating from the bar and that he was accustomed to hear profane language when there were three or four men congregated about the place.

Jere Plank said he had, on a number of occasions, seen drunken men getting liquor at the bar. Upon being pressed for specific instances he told of going to the bar-room to get his team drivers, Bill Yingling, Charles and John Waddles, out of the hotel. He also said he had bought a drink for Thad Fleming within the past two weeks and that Fleming was a man of temperate habits.

On the cross examination it was developed that Jere and Klinefelter had a number of disagreements, although Jere stoutly maintained that he held no grudge against Klinefelter and was ready to do business with him at any time. Jere was accused of removing manure from Klinefelter's stable yard without permission or previous arrangement, and he said he had been told that Klinefelter set fire to a load of straw that had been left on the premises of the hotel. This was in connection with a fracas that had been given considerable publicity at the time of its occurrence more than a year ago.

Amos Delap said he had seen colored girls who were not over fifteen years of age being served at the bar with drinks by Klinefelter on an excursion day this past summer. He also stated he frequently saw men and women drinking from buckets in the rear of the hotel. He had loaned buckets to people to secure beer several times and discontinued the practice when he found the buckets smelled of beer upon their return.

During the cross examination, Delap said Klinefelter had sold beer to his son who was a person of temperate habits, after notice had been served upon him not to give the man drink.

The witnesses called during the morning were heard in the following order: Amos Eckert, Dr. T. C. Billheimer, Dr. John A. Himes, H. W. Adams, L. A. Warren, E. H. Trostle, Jere J. Plank, James Jones, (colored), M. K. Eckert, Harry Sheely, Prof. Allan Dickson, J. I. Burgoon, Prof. Stephen R. Wing, George A. Taylor, J. W. Gariach, Dr. P. M. Bikle, George Ridinger, Amos Delap.

Elmer Basehoar, called as the first witness of the afternoon, said the first time he knew Klinefelter he was told he could not purchase liquor there and that the next time he was in the hotel, on election night, after 12 o'clock, he bought four drinks of whiskey, two of them from Klinefelter, and that he (Basehoar) was visibly intoxicated at the time.

Subsequently, he declared, he has bought whiskey several times. Cross examination brought out the fact that Basehoar was an inmate of the jail during the past year. He said he had been brought here from Baltimore by a telegram from Rev. J. B. Baker and

START WORK FOR BUILDING FUND

Neighboring County to be Organized for Campaign Looking toward Fine Y. M. C. A. Structure at College.

A fine start was given the movement to raise a $30,000 fund for the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building at Gettysburg College when the York County Woman's League on Thursday afternoon formulated plans to organize the women of their district for the work. It is proposed to enlist the interest of as many Lutherans as possible so that York County may contribute its share toward the proposed building. Five years is the time allotted for the raising of the fund.

At Thursday's meeting the plan was outlined by Mrs. John F. Dapp and Mrs. David A. Buehler, members of the Harrisburg League, and fifteen new members were added. The sum of $55 was raised as a starting fund. It was hoped to have Mrs. Granville at the meeting but she was prevented from being present by the gathering of the Laymen's Movement committee here.

All the women of the league will serve as patronesses at the concert of the glee club and combined musical organizations of Gettysburg College to be given in the auditorium of the York High School on March 3. The twenty-five members of the combined musical clubs will be entertained while in the city by the league.

TO STOP FISHING FOR BLACK BASS

Small Mouthed Variety to be Found Locally should not be Taken for Several Years, Says State Commissioner.

Gettysburg fishermen and all those living in the county will be asked to co-operate in the movement to stop fishing for some kinds of black bass for a time. Pennsylvania's fish of this variety have so deteriorated that the State Department of Fisheries has been compelled to undertake a campaign of several years to replenish the stock according to a statement issued by State Commissioner of Fisheries Nathan R. Buller, who asks that the fishermen of Pennsylvania turn their attention to some other fish than bass for a while.

According to Mr. Buller the popular fancy for the small mouthed black bass about thirty years ago resulted in such extensive stocking of streams that the fish because of the favorable conditions for increasing bred so fast that their natural food supply was exhausted and that they preyed upon each other. Some famous fishing grounds were also fished out. Others were cleared of fish because of lack of food and in others the cannibal warfare caused the fish to become stunted or scarce.

In summing up the situation the commissioner says:

"On account of the difficulties met and the expense of propagating the small mouth bass in large numbers, the same as the Department is doing with other species of fish, and retaining them until they grow to a suitable size for planting, the fishermen should not apply for so many bass, but apply for fish to introduce into the bass streams which will replenish the food supply, namely, the minnow and frog. The department does not expect to be able to rear bass in such large numbers for many years to come and if the fishermen will do as above stated they will see the wisdom of this, and also the good results will be noticeable."

Both the small mouthed and the large mouthed black bass are to be found in the streams near Gettysburg, and during the past two years several cans of each kind have been planted here. In the streams in the eastern end of the county principally the large mouthed bass are to be found.

ARRESTED FIVE

Biglerville Man Distinguishes himself as State Trooper.

Later reports of the riot at the Polish Catholic church in DuPont this week tell of the heroic action of Blaine Walter, of Biglerville, a State trooper, who crawled through a transom in the rear of the church, and climbed into the balcony leading to the belfry where five of the foreigners were ringing the bell, and adding much to the excitement and confusion. A small ladder was used to reach the belfry and on it he had a hand-to-hand encounter with one of the quintet, finally subduing him after which the other four surrendered. Trooper Walter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Walter, of Biglerville.

MAY UNITE TWO ORGANIZATIONS

Fruit Growers of this County Take Interest in Plan to Take in State Truckers. Are Home from Convention.

Adams County members of the State Horticultural Society returned Thursday evening from the mid-winter meeting at Reading where one of the features of the closing day was a discussion of the plan to combine their organization and the State Vegetable Growers' Association.

The vegetable growers have maintained a separate organization for two years, although it has been fostered by the Horticultural Society, which has just held its fifty second annual convention. At Thursday's session it was decided to leave the matter of consolidation to a committee, which will submit a report next year, but it was agreed that a grower may obtain membership in both for three dollars, instead of paying two dollars for each, as heretofore.

These officers were elected by the State Horticultural Association: president, Dr. I. H. Mayer, Lancaster, vice presidents, P. S. Fenstermacher, Allentown; George Kessler, Tyrone, and W. J. Lewis, Pittston; secretary, F. N. Fagan, of State College; treasurer, Edwin W. Thomas, of King of Prussia, Montgomery County.

C. Arthur Griest, of Guernsey, through his office of president of the Adams County Fruit Growers' Association, also becomes one of the presidents of the State Society. Mr. Griest was in charge of the question box at all the sessions at Reading this week and presided during the election of officers.

No counties had exhibits for a county award this year and there were comparatively few Adams County apples sent to the meeting. Most of the prizes to individual growers were won by Berks County orchardists.

DELONE HEARING

Effort Made to Have Hanover Attorney Adjudged a Bankrupt.

The petitioners introduced evidence to establish their claims against Mr. Delone. Only two witnesses were examined. The examination of witnesses proceeded slowly because the testimony related to book accounts. Two sessions were held, morning and afternoon, and the hearing was continued to next Monday when further testimony will be taken.

ENDORSES PLAN TO WIN ALIENS

Great Throng Attends Philadelphia Mass Meeting.

ROOSEVELT CHIEF SPEAKER

Says Americanism Demands That Every Immigrant Shall Become an American Citizen and Nothing Else.

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—When Albin P. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works brought his gavel down with a bang on the table before him at the Metropolitan Opera house and formally opened the mass meeting held in connection with the National Conference on Immigration and Americanization, he looked out over a sea of faces such as the theater probably never before had housed.

Twenty-five thousand applications for reservations had been made to the committee at its headquarters. Only a small proportion of these could be granted.

Among the boxholders were: Governor Brumbaugh, Governor Miller, of Delaware; Governor Beechman, of Rhode Island; Rodman Wanamaker, Isaac H. Clothier, Mayor Smith, Mrs. Thomas Robins, E. A. Van Valkenburgh, Dr. J. William White, Provost Edgar Fahs Smith, Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, Dr. John B. Deaver, Samuel D. L. T. Charles Curtis Harrison, Samuel M. Vachman, Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, Miss J. L. Lachlan, John W. Geary, Robert Montgomery, Miss Frances Wister, H. C. Boyer, Dr. A. Duncan Yocum, Mrs. William Pratt, Rabbi Berkowitz, Langdon Mitchell, the Mullanphy Fund of St. Louis, J. Kearsley Mitchell, 3d; Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, Dr. William H. Roberts, Women's Defence League, Miss Mary Ingham, Charlton Yarnall, Miss Emily Sartain and the committee on arrangements.

After announcing as his text, "Fear God and Take Your Own Part," Colonel Roosevelt immediately obtained the interest of all by telling of the book, long a favorite in his family, wherein one of the characters sums up the duty of man as being "to fear God and take your own part." This advice, he said, was as applicable to nations as to individuals and making application of the thought, he said:

"We must demand honesty, justice, mercy, truthfulness in our dealings with one another within our own borders. Outside of our own borders, we must treat other nations as we would wish to be treated in return, judging each in any given crisis as we ourselves ought to be judged, that is, by our conduct in that crisis. If they do ill, we show that we fear God when we sternly bear testimony against them and oppose them in any way and to whatever extent the needs require. When we sit idly by while Belgium is being overwhelmed and rolling up our eyes, prattle with unctuous self-righteousness about the duty of neutrality, we show that we do not fear God; on the contrary, we show an odious fear of the devil and a mean readiness to serve him."

It was in the further discussing of this thought that the colonel pointed out that a man must be able to take his own part before he can take the part of others, that there must be on his part undivided love for his own country and that "habby pacifism" is mischievous and that the "lyphen is incompatible with patriotism."

To assure true preparedness in time of war, the colonel said, there must be "preparedness to do our duty in time of peace," and that the most important of all types of preparedness "is that of the spirit of the soul." He then made a plea for national unitedness for "an efficient national government system," and next turned to California and the administration of Governor Hiram Johnson to illustrate "social and industrial efficiency." He extolled Governor Johnson's course with regard to the regulation of and at the same time the encouragement of railroads and telephone companies. He urged centralized control of great corporations, but not discouragement of those who aim to serve the people fairly. His conclusion was:

"The larger Americanism demands that we insist that every immigrant who comes here shall become an American citizen and nothing else; if he shows that he still remains at heart more loyal to another land, let him be promptly returned to that land; and, on the other hand, he shows that he is in good faith and wholeheartedly an American, let him be treated as on a full equality with the native born. 'The larger Americanism demands that we native born also be wholehearted in our allegiance to our country and our flag; that we refuse to be sundered from one another along lines of class or creed or sect or national origin; that we judge each American on his merits as a man; that we work for the well being of our bodily selves, but also for the well being of our spiritual selves; that we consider safety, but that we put honor and duty ahead of safety.'"

Fears Menace in Wartime. About 3,000,000 foreign-born residents of this country who have never renounced their allegiance to the lands of their birth would constitute a very real menace to this country in the event of war with one of the great European powers, is the opinion of Humor Used Up. "You must realize that it is time to talk seriously to your constituents," I suppose so," replied Senator Sorghum. "By this time they've heard about all the funny stories there are."

FRANCISCO VILLA

Mexican Bandit Reported Captured by Carranza Men.

Dr. P. P. Claxton, federal commissioner of education, one of the afternoon's speakers at the conference.

Dr. Claxton said that with this menace in our very midst, he thought it the duty of the United States government, as a simple measure of preparedness, to finance the Americanization work, to the end that these potential fighting men, all of whom have valuable military training, should cease to be a dangerous element, but through realization of American ideals and attainment of American citizenship, should become instead possible valued defenders of the country from foreign aggression.

Dr. Frank O'Hara, of the Catholic University of America, Washington, said the Catholic colleges of the country owe it not only to the immigrant but to themselves as well, to interpret American institutions to him. They owe it to the immigrant of their own faith especially, he argued, because if such an immigrant sees that the work of making the foreigner acquainted with American ways is being conducted by societies of every form of religious belief except his own, he is likely to get the notion that Americanization and religious proselytism have much in common.

John P. Jackson, commissioner of labor and industry for Pennsylvania, said: "The immigration problem and its corollary, Americanization, are probably greater and more vital questions in Pennsylvania than any other state of the Union, since we get here a greater number of more diversified nationals, because of our industrial supremacy. Our mining, steel and oil industries alone," he said, "requiring great numbers of unskilled laborers have drawn thousands of the rugged European peasantry to this state. In this connection," he said, "there is a great need for an elaborate extension of the present experimental system of state employment agencies."

ATTACK IN CLOUD OF SMOKE

Germans Say British Drive Was Repulsed With Heavy Loss.

London, Jan. 21.—An attack by the British with the use of smoke bombs on the German positions north of Frelinghien, in northern France, is announced in an official statement by German army headquarters.

It is declared that the attack along a front of several hundred yards was beaten off with heavy loss to the British. The statement also says: "Enemy artillery, according to the usual plan, shelled the church at Lens. An English biplane, carrying two machine guns, the machine being a unit of an enemy squadron, was shot down near Tourcoing by a German aircraft."

"On the Yser fire from our anti-aircraft guns forced an enemy machine to land in the enemy lines. The aeroplane was immediately destroyed by our artillery."

Mrs. Eisenberger Acquitted. Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 21.—After being out almost forty-five hours the jury in the case of Mrs. Annie Eisenberger, charged with the murder of her husband, returned a verdict of not guilty. In the trial a confession, declared to have been made by her was introduced, but she repudiated it on the stand. The commonwealth asserted she shot her husband to obtain the insurance on his life.

Rout Turks in Caucasus. London, Jan. 21.—A complete rout of the Turkish center, opposing the Russian offensive in the Caucasus, is reported by Petrograd. The czar's troops, it is claimed, drove back the Moslems on a sixty-five mile front inflicting heavy losses. The sultan's forces retreated toward Erzerum while the Russians occupied a village thirty-three miles east of this important Caucasian town.

CARRANZA MEN CAPTURE VILLA

Outlaw With His Band Taken by Soldiers.

SENT TO CHIHUAHUA CITY

Bandits Who Participated in Murder of Seventeen Americans Also Made Prisoners.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 21.—Francisco Villa has been captured at Hacienda San Geronimo by Carranza forces under General Cavazos, according to a private telegram from Chihuahua City received here.

The telegram came from the source that first reported the massacre of Americans at Santa Ysabel. Cavazos was last reported as bringing prisoners from Guerrero to Chihuahua City. Mexican Consul Andreas Garcia later confirmed the capture of General Villa. His advisers said the capture was effected by Maximo Marquez, who recently also captured General Jose Rodriguez, one of Villa's generals.

A message announcing Villa's capture has also been received at the office of the American Smelting and Refining company.

Messages from Chihuahua City, confirming reports of the capture of Villa, said a number of bandits, who participated in the Santa Ysabel massacre also were captured and are being taken to Chihuahua City for execution.

Manuel Medina y Nieto, who was Villa's chief of staff and who was placed in jail at El Paso during the demonstrations against Mexicans here last week, apparently has disappeared since being deported to Mexico two days ago. Medina y Nieto was sent to Juarez at his own request, according to American officials. Mexican officials said he was not in Juarez. Reports he had been executed elicited statements that since he had been granted amnesty there was no legal warrant for killing him.

Roberto V. Pesqueira, personal representative of General Carranza, first chief of the Mexican government, is preparing for a general conference of Mexican officials in Juarez, at which will be discussed measures affecting the welfare of northern Mexico, the problem presented by the activities of Villa, the possibility of revolution and the task of keeping typhus in bounds to prevent a closing of the border by American authorities.

U. S. ORDERS ARREST OF DIAZ

Say He Is Secretly Planning a New Revolution in Mexico.

Washington, Jan. 21.—An order is reported to have been sent out through government channels for the apprehension of General Felix Diaz, it was learned.

Information has come to the government that Diaz has secretly been gathering arms and ammunition at Havana, planning a new revolution in Mexico. Diaz is a nephew of Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico.

Shouting Death to Americans.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 21.—About 4000 malcontents are operating near Torreon, shouting for Felix Diaz and declaring Carranza adherents and Americans are to be killed and all property stolen, according to arrivals from Torreon.

About 300 Carranza troops are centered at Torreon. A week ago they had not taken the field against the malcontents.

TEST ON PREPAREDNESS

First Vote in House Shows 65 For and 6 Against Program.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The first indication of how the house of representatives stands on the preparedness question came yesterday afternoon. In argument over a proposed amendment to the urgent deficiency bill relating to limitation of funds for battleships, the Republican minority leader, Mr. Mann, jumped to his feet and exclaimed: "We'll have a show down on preparedness right now. All those favoring preparedness rise to their feet against this amendment." Those against preparedness rise for the amendment.

Of the approximately one hundred representatives on the floor, sixty-five rose for preparedness, and six against it. The rest remained seated.

KING CONSTANTINE

Greek Ruler Appeals to U. S. for Fair Hearing.

MONTENEGRO IS BACK IN THE WAR

Fighting Resumed Along the Whole Front.

Rome, Jan. 21.—Fighting between Austria and Montenegro has been resumed. Montenegro has notified Italy officially of this fact.

Montenegro's decision was communicated to the Italian foreign office by the Montenegrin premier. The note is to the effect that King Nicholas and the Montenegrin government have rejected all terms offered by Austria and that the fighting already has been resumed along the whole front.

King Nicholas remains with his army to organize the defenses of the country. The Montenegrin government has been installed at Scutari, according to a despatch from San Giovanni di Medua.

King at Head of Troops.

London, Jan. 21.—Sir John Roper Parlington, consul general in London for Montenegro, received official confirmation of the report that King Nicholas of Montenegro and his sons would remain at the head of their troops, determined to fight to the last. Queen Milena, with two of her daughters, the despatch adds, have reached Italy on their way to France.

Athens advises to Paris say that in Agarthi, Darnograd and other towns the Montenegrin population is forcibly resisting Austrian occupation.

FIERCE FIGHTING IN RUSSIA

Vienna, However, Says Attacks of Enemy Have Been Repulsed.

Vienna, Jan. 21.—The battle on the Bersarabian front is increasing in violence, the Austrian war office reports.

Russian forces have been repulsed with heavy losses at several points. The statement adds:

"Attacks of superior Russian forces at several places between Toporut and Boyan were repulsed, principally by Budapest and Hunved divisions. The enemy several times during the combats entered our trenches, but were always repulsed, in hand-to-hand fights, with heavy losses. At one place the Sixth and Thirteenth Hunved regiments made vigorous counterattacks."

"The ground in front of the trenches is covered with dead Russians. In certain districts the dead amount to between 800 and 1000."

200 Killed in Little Explosion.

London, Jan. 21.—"The Berlin-Loka Anzeiger," says an Amsterdam despatch received, "declares that the recent explosion at Lille resulted in a terrible catastrophe. The munitions plant there completely disappeared all the men in it being killed. Surrounding houses and factories were also destroyed. More than 200 were killed and many times that number injured."

16 INCH GUNS ARE SOUGHT FOR NAVY

Would Have Two New Battleships Armed With Giants.

WANT SHIPS OF 36,000 TONS

High Speed and Cruising Radius of 10,000 Miles Are Proposed—Dreadnaughts, Each Costing $18,000,000, Would Be Greatest Warships in the World—Report of Navy Board.

Main batteries of ten sixteen-inch guns each, the greatest practicable speed and a cruising radius of at least 10,000 miles are the general characteristics urged by the navy general board for the two new superdreadnaughts congress has been asked to authorize this year.

It was learned that the board proposes that the ships should cost $18,000,000 each, displace 36,000 tons and have the highest speed attainable without sacrificing armament, armor or fuel capacity. It would have them represent a 25 per cent increase of gun power and endurance over any American battleship afloat or authorized and carry the biggest guns ever placed aboard a fighting ship by any power.

Indications at the navy department, however, are the adherence to the 32,000 ton ship of the California class finally will be decided upon by Secretary Daniels, although the estimates already before congress are based on the larger craft. Opinions differ among Mr. Daniels' advisers as to the advisability of increasing the size of battleships, because of many limitations of port facilities and channel depth.

Other Guns Fourteen Inches. "Some officers believe also that the power of individual guns should not be increased at the expense of the total number of big guns carried. The California and similar ships will carry twelve fourteen-inch guns each.

It has been figured out by experts who favor the fourteen inch weapon for future ships that a twelve gun ship will average 75 per cent more hits than an eight gun vessel. The only advantage of the bigger gun, they say, is at ranges in excess of 15,000 yards.

Navy information as to the battle in the North sea, in which the German battle cruiser Blücher was sunk, shows that only 1 per cent of hits was scored by either fleet. That fight was fought at from 15,000 to 20,000 yards, and the German ships did much damage to the British battle cruisers. It is said, although they mounted only eleven inch guns against the 15.5 inch weapons of the British.

The general board reached its conclusion on the necessity of bigger battleships after a study of events abroad. The reasons for raising the cruising radius from 8,000 miles, as in the California class, to 10,000 have not been discussed, but probably had to do with the great distances of the Pacific ocean.

The board did not recommend any specific speed to be reached, advising merely that the twenty-one knot gain of the present first line ships should be increased as much as possible "with out reducing the armament, armor or fuel capacity."

OUR GUNS SET NEW MARK.

Atlantic Fleet Makes Highest Target Average in Its History.

Gunnery of the Atlantic fleet made during 1915 the highest averages of the fleet's history for target practice in the open sea. This became known when the annual report of Admiral Fletcher, commanding the fleet, was sent to the senate in response to a resolution introduced by Senator Lodge.

The report was ordered printed as a confidential document at the request of Senator Lodge.

In transmitting the report Secretary Daniels wrote a letter to the naval affairs committee explaining that certain conclusions reached by Admiral Fletcher of a purely military nature had been omitted, as it was believed their publication would be unwise. He outlined the progress made by the department toward rectifying conditions in the fleet, which Admiral Fletcher thought undesirable.

It was learned at the navy department that the admiral's report dwelt upon the shortage of officers and men on vessels of the fleet. Secretary Daniels' letter, which also was made a confidential document, is understood to have stated that this condition had already been overcome so far as it could be met within the present authorized limit of strength of personnel.

Blissful with the joys of Santa Claus, he chattered incessantly about his home and the kindness shown him. As Yates was about to go Charlie edged up to him and handed over 10 cents, his entire capital.

"I want you to buy a papa and mamma for another little boy," he lisped. "You bought me nice ones."

A Song of the Sword

I am the sword;
Yes, habile of peace as ye will,
I am the master still,
For mine is the ultimate word.
When I speak naught else is heard.

Since ever the world began
I have been lord of man.
When the first anvil rang
'Twas of the sword I sang.
And the forge of Tubal roared
As he hammered the ruddy sword.

Scepter and orb and crown
At the flash of my wrath bring down.
While the bat spreads dusky wings
O'er the urns of mighty kings
That I broke and cast aside
And crushed in their pomp and pride.
For those I love I crown
And those I hate cast down.

Potent to slay or shield,
Lord of the stricken field,
Where flaunting pennons stream
And sparkling lances gleam,
Men come to be judged by me,
And I utter the last decree.
For I am the sword,
And habile of peace as ye will,
I am the master still.

FARM TO TABLE PLAN GETS O. K. OF POSTOFFICE HEAD

Parcel Post Will Bring Housewife and Producer Together.

W. N. Collins, acting postmaster of Kansas City, Mo., has won recognition from Washington of his efforts to make the parcel post a farm to table servant. By special order of Postmaster General Burleson he has been given authority to become a clearing house between the farm and the city, bringing producer and consumer together.

In results it is perhaps the biggest thing the department has done since establishing the parcel post service, Mr. Collins believes.

Here is what it will do: The farmers, and especially those within the 150 mile zone of Kansas City, will write in giving a list of the produce they have to sell. This will be printed on a list issued at frequent intervals. The city housewife who asks for this list may have it mailed to her, and she may write direct to the producer to order. The carriers will distribute these lists to the homes if the voluntary demand does not prove sufficient.

Thus consumer and producer are introduced. If the producer wishes the product may be sent C. O. D. for an extra charge of 10 cents, and the post-office department will collect and return the money.

"Few persons realize how cheaply they might have fresh vegetables, fruit, butter, eggs, meat, lard, sorghum and many other farm products direct from the farm," Mr. Collins said. "The carriage charges are very light. The rule is that within 150 miles the package is carried for just 4 cents more than the number of pounds. Thus a ten pound ham would be carried for 14 cents. The C. O. D. charge, which insures the sender, would be the uniform one of 10 cents, thus bringing the total ten pound cost up to 24 cents."

Mr. Collins will get a list of the farmers by bulletins sent to the country postoffices.

CORFU SEIZED WHILE ASLEEP

Troops, Animals and Supplies Landed From Warships in Night.

Not a transport was used in the surprise landing of the French on the island of Corfu. Every man, gun, mule, horse, round of ammunition and pound of forage was embarked on French cruisers, which, conveyed by a flotilla of destroyers, left an unnamed port on Jan. 9.

Steaming at nineteen knots they sighted Corfu on the night of Jan. 10. With lights out they crept up the narrow channel between Corfu and the mainland, which had been infested by U-boats, and entered Corfu harbor at 2 o'clock in the morning.

Such is the account from the Daily Chronicle's special correspondent at Corfu, who says that the troops were unloaded from four cruisers and rowed ashore while the town slept. The Italian and French consuls acted as guides to a hotel where an alleged German spy was arrested. Only just before the landing did the consuls officially inform the prefect of the disembarkation. The landing of the men and munitions took only five hours.

PAPEN'S CLOTHES IN PERIL

Retained Them Only by the Grace of the British Navy.

When Captain von Papen, the recalled German military attaché at Washington, was held up at Falmouth he produced the safe conduct which had been given to him by the British government at the request of the United States state department and demanded that he be allowed to proceed unmolested.

The former attaché was politely informed that the safe conduct only concerned his body and that the fact that he was allowed to retain his clothes was entirely an act of grace of the British navy. At that Captain von Papen used very uncomplimentary language in English, the British report said, and surrendered with bad grace the documents he carried.

MILLIONAIRES MADE BY WAR

Du Ponts and Schwab Oust Oil and Coal Kings of Finance.

ONE INCOME OF $1,000,000

Once the Boy Employee of Carnegie Head of Bethlehem Steel Now Has One of the Largest Incomes in the World—One Du Pont Plant Turn Out 500,000 Pounds of Powder a Day

Albert W. Atwood, a specialist of Wall street and business conditions has written for the American Magazine an article on "Americans Made Rich and Powerful by the War." It sets forth that "a new dynasty" is in finance, that of the munition makers has succeeded to the dynasties of the period after the civil war, the coal and oil and transportation kings and the group of money monarchs produced by the steel and tobacco industry reorganizations.

Charles M. Schwab and the Du Pont family of Delaware, the writer holds, emerge head and shoulders out of the "charity body" of war made millionaires. He says, "Schwab on the one hand and the Du Ponts on the other have their hosts of lieutenants, so traps on the grand scale, with income ranging up to $1,000,000 a year. The Schwab scale."

Mr. Atwood calls them a double product of the "bonus" system of a war and a sudden, unexpected elevation in company shares of huge but heretofore privately concentrated wealth. Of the Du Ponts he says:

Two Families of Du Ponts.

"The Du Ponts were to the purplists, as were long generations of their ancestors before them. The Du Ponts are young and there is a host of them. Two generations are in the business, the older barely middle-aged, the younger hardly more than youth. In old pictures, conservatively, Wilmington they have long controlled the banks, trust companies, utilities, two of the newspapers and a hotel big enough for London, to say nothing of surrounding country estates, game preserves and fancy breeding farms.

"For absolute ability to size up a predicament and cash in upon the European war the Du Ponts have no peers. Alone among big munition makers they have been ahead in their deliveries at a time when such speed might mean life or death to certain European empires. At least one of their sixty eight plants is turning out more than half a million pounds a day of high explosives.

"Here, perhaps, is the only counterpoint of the Standard Oil and Carnegie steel as mother of uncounted fortune.

"For a downright gold mine Du Pont powder has no equal. In 1902 control of the business was acquired by T. Coleman du Pont, who had no previously had any connection with the company, and by Pierre and Alfred I. du Pont. Pierre and his relatives paid Cousin Coleman $200 a share for his 80,000 shares. That was in March, 1915. A few months later the stock sold at $700 a share. The three formed a new company, gave themselves two new shares of stock for each old one and kept the old stock as well. At this writing the new stock which itself was a dividend, is selling around $450 a share and has begun to pay regular dividends of 6 per cent a year and the extra of 2 1/2 per cent."

Cash Profit of 500 Per Cent.

A government dissolution order caused the reorganization of the business into three companies which have prospered so that the owner of 100 shares of the old stock, worth $15,500 at the time of the dissolution, has now a cash profit of $90,000, or 500 per cent. The Du Ponts have allowed their employees from vice presidents to day laborers to buy stock and have given it to them in bonuses.

In recounting the return to munition power through the building up of Bethlehem Steel by Charles M. Schwab once to all intents and purposes ruled off the hard turf of Wall street by J. Pierpont Morgan, the elder, Mr. Atwood says, after explaining Schwab's method:

"So today the Bethlehem Steel corporation is probably the greatest in individual industrial achievement in the country. Charles M. Schwab has made it so with his ability, energy, hard work and conservatism, and today he stands in the same financial relation to the Bethlehem Steel as Andrew Carnegie stood to the Carnegie Steel company.

"Schwab worked for Carnegie as a boy, and to all intents and purposes he has made out of his once small and poorly considered steel business a second Carnegie Steel. He is the man to dictate terms, just as Carnegie was the lone, dominating figure in this vast, humming enterprise.

"But Schwab has developed about him a group of young men, just as Carnegie did. None of them stands out as did Frick, Schwab and Corey among Carnegie's boys, but they are a vigorous and exceedingly wealthy lot. Thus far they have stuck to the steel business, eschewed New York and live in South Bethlehem on a street happily known as Bonus row. Eugene G. Grace, who ranks next to Schwab, is only thirty-eight years old. He was the son of a poor village storekeeper and began as a laborer. His yearly income amounts to well over $1,000,000—thanks to bonuses."

that George Walters tried to secure the telegram from him.

George Faber was called to testify that Hugh Clemens had bought drink at Klinefelter's and then Clemens told of his arrival at Gettysburg and how he had bought drinks from Klinefelter when he was on a "speer."

Included in the witnesses called at Thursday afternoon's session of Court were James Kerrigan, John Waddle, and George Oyley, whom the attorneys for the remonstrants have tried to establish as having the reputation of being of known intemperate habits.

All testified that they had bought liquor at the Hotel Washington during the past year.

Dr. Charles F. Sanders and W. A. McIlhenny, remonstrants, told of seeing drunken men about the Hotel Washington, Dr. Sanders also telling of hearing profane and vile language while passing the place. He did not regard the place as necessary.

The best witness for the remonstrants up to this time was Mrs. J. O. Blocher who told of conditions at the hotel as she viewed them from her place of business across the railroad. She said she had seen many drunken men about the hotel during the past year; that one man came out so drunk that he had to be helped onto his horse and then later drove into her (Mrs. Blocher's) team; that another man purchased some lumber from her, went to the hotel and after remaining for several hours came back drunk; that on a colored excursion day her team could not proceed on account of the crowd in the street at the hotel and while it was standing there the bar-room door was opened permitting her to see women lying on the floor of the bar-room. Before leaving the stand Mrs. Blocher remarked, "I am glad to do my part, but I think it is a shame there are not enough Christian men in this community to take up this work without calling on the women."

Mrs. H. Amos Delap, who lives on Railroad street in plain view of the sidewalk of beer cases and barrels filled with empty and partly empty bottles, and said she had seen boys handling these bottles; that she had seen colored men and women taking liquor from the hotel to the stable in the rear where they drank it; that she had seen drunken men through the bar-room window as she passed by, and that on one occasion saw a man thrown out of the door and heard him say to another man that the "boss" had thrown him out.

It has been decided to postpone the hearing in the Hartzell Restaurant case to February 7. The Washington Hotel case was resumed at nine o'clock this morning.

Relieves The Worst Cases Of Catarrh

Think "Hymey the Most Wonderful Treatment for Catarrh Ever Discovered."

Do not try to cure catarrh by using sprays or lotions; it cannot be cured in that manner. The only way in which this too common disease can be fully relieved is through a direct application to the affected parts that will kill the bacilli of catarrh and prevent their growth.

Breathing the air of Hymey is the only known method of treatment that can really accomplish this. It is the simplest, most pleasant and probably the most reliable treatment for catarrh that has ever been discovered.

The complete Hymey outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hymey to last several weeks. This will effect instant relief in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh longer use may be necessary, and then an extra bottle of Hymey can be obtained for a trifling sum. It is not alone the best (it might be called the only) method of treating catarrh, but it is also the most economical.

The People's Drug Store have so much confidence in the power of Hymey to relieve catarrh, that they will for a limited time, sell this medicine under their personal guarantee to refund the money if the purchaser can say that it did not benefit.

CONGRESS PROVES NATION IS NEUTRAL

As Much Opposition to England as to Germany Noted.

MANY FAVOR ARMS EMBARGO

Secret Vote Would Probably Declare For Measure Prohibiting Export of Arms, but in the Open Men Will Not Take This Stand and Shut the Door to the Steady Stream of Gold.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Complaint that our people, instead of being neutral, are almost wholly on the side of the allies has been answered by the expressions of opinion in both senate and house since congress convened.

If for no other reason, congress ought to be in session so that the world may know the general attitude of the people as expressed by their representatives. That there is a feeling against the outrages by Great Britain as well as the sinking of ships by submarines has been apparent since congress has been given an opportunity for public expression.

Opposition to English methods run all the way from demanding an embargo upon munitions of war to a demand that Americans be kept off belligerent ships, so as not to enroll us in the European war.

Embargo Unlikely.

Perhaps if a secret vote could be taken in both houses of congress there would be a declaration for an embargo, but in the open there will never be a majority to carry through any such proposition unless Great Britain further interferes with our commerce or goes to an extent that her course becomes unbearable. There is now too much profit in the shipment of supplies of all kinds to the allies and too much satisfaction with the gold that is coming to our shores to have it stopped by an embargo.

Great Britain may, however, get wise to the fact that the sentiment which was favorable to her at first and is still favorable to France may not continue under the course she has been pursuing.

Tales of Imaginary Invasion.

Some people have wondered at the popularity of the "tales of imaginary invasion" of the United States that have been sent broadcast throughout the country, and possibly there has been a question as to whether they were believed as other than the wildest kind of fiction. This is the way Congressman Mondell of Wyoming spoke of them in the house:

"I wish I had the words to express the scorn I feel for those yellow streaked, soft hearted Americans, those all most treacherous Americans, who write those tales of imaginary invasions which, if what they suggested were in any way possible, would prove to be the most pusillanimous, spineless and unworthy folk that ever lived upon the face of the earth."

Quoting Wilson Versus Wilson.

The favorite pastime of Senator Borah of Idaho—and I suppose he does it as a matter of amusement—is to quote what Woodrow Wilson wrote at different times, showing that he now takes a different position. Probably it does not disturb the president though it does worry some of his supporters, who think that a consistent record is necessary.

Many a statesman has broken his back trying to be consistent or trying to prove that he has been consistent. Men change with the times, and what a man thought was right ten or twenty years ago he may find is wrong applied to present conditions. Besides, a man might not have written quite so profitably as did Wilson had he any idea at the time that he would one day be president.

Carranza First Chief.

There is no president of Mexico, and Carranza will not become president temporarily because he wants to keep as close to the constitution as he can. If he becomes temporary president he cannot be a candidate for president, so he is now "first chief." It is the first chief which our government has recognized in Mexico.

Mutual Admiration Society.

Congressman Mann and Congressman Foster, both from Illinois, had one day indulged in a long colloquy of little importance, the subject being who had been right about a bureau of the government. With give and take, little of importance being said, their time expired just as they were heaping bouquets upon each other. They made an effort to get more time, when Emerson of Ohio interposed to ask:

"Is this time to be used for the mutual admiration society?"

And when the time was granted it was shown that Emerson guessed right, for the compliments continued.

Want to Talk War.

Not much time was spent on the conversation bills. The house did not want to talk about such dry subjects as the whole public mind policy of the country when the members could be talking about war and preparedness. They want a real live topic for debate. Their minds are wholly occupied with wars and rumors of wars.

That Kind of Girl.

"She is the sort of girl," said Eph Wiley yesterday, "who will turn around to see if she has attracted your attention and then frown at you for looking at her."—Topeka Capital.

INTRODUCING REAL CAUSES OF PRESENT GRIP EPIDEMIC.

They Have Long Crime Records, and Even Their Names Sound Criminal.

Callers at the New York health department are introduced to the causes of the grippé epidemic as they have been reported by Dr. A. W. Williams, assistant director of the department's research laboratory. Let us mention their names: Mr. Pneumococcus and Mr. Influenza Bacillus, both of whom have figured much in the newspapers recently, and Mr. Micrococcus Catarrhalis, who is comparatively unknown.

Before the bacteriological laboratory made its report there had been a difference of opinion in the department as to the cause of the disease. Commissioner Emerson blamed Mr. Pneumococcus and Dr. C. F. Boldman, head of the department of public health education, blamed Mr. Influenza Bacillus. Micrococcus Catarrhalis was not even suspected.

It was announced that Dr. Williams examination had shown that the influenza bacillus was present in about half the cases. The pneumococcus in nearly all the cases and the micrococcus catarrhalis in a great many cases. Hence, indictments were returned against all three. The micrococcus catarrhalis is similar to the meningitis germ, but otherwise different.

These objects are referred to by the health department physicians in their learned medical books as micrococci, germs or bacilli, but when they speak of them in ordinary conversation they refer to them as just plain bugs. It was explained that these "bugs" are so small that from 7,500 to 50,000 of them can roost on a hair an inch long.

Of the total there were 39,797 first class, 61,040 second and 95,467 third class passengers.

Collars to Wear With the Season's Frocks.

An attractive set of collars for wear with separate waists of one-piece frocks. They are made of organdy, trimmed with hand embroidery.

The controversy between the sponsors of the high collar and low continues in merry indecision, while admirers of both effects welcome the novelty as they come and make their selection as the fancy dictates. In the designs shown here there is a wide choice, though simplicity is the keynote of the collars both as regard the construction and effect.

With the exception of No. 1, which requires 1 yard of 27 inch material, there is not a model in the group which requires more than 1/2 yard of organdy, batiste or lawn. Embroidery is the trimming used in every instance, though in the case of No. 2 a jabot of lace may be added if desired.

New Idea in Concrete Work.

A concrete pile has recently been invented which possesses important advantages over the kind formerly used. It is driven by boring its own hole with a stream of water ejected with considerable force at its point. Water at a pressure of 250 pounds is forced through the iron pipe forming the core of the pile, cutting a hole as the pile descends. The water dissolves earth and sand and thrusts rocks aside.

Wagner's Letters Lost.

The first tenor who won Wagner's admiration, Tichatschek, left to his daughter when he died a number of letters written to him by the great composer, whose Rienzi he created. On her death, not long ago, the daughter bequeathed these letters to the Wagner museum at Eisenach, but on the way from Brussels the case containing them was opened and the contents were stolen.

DO THIS FIRST—YOU!

You know, and every physician knows, that when any sickness has passed, whether it be throat trouble, organic disturbances, contagious diseases, or even a severe cold, a relapse is feared, because sickness robs the system of Nature's resistance and leaves it subject to lingering germs.

Drugs never build up a worn-out body—only food can do that, and the first thing to take after any sickness is the concentrated, blood-making oil of Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the tissues, benefits the blood and strengthens both lungs and throat.

Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion after sickness. Nurses everywhere advocate it. Scott's is pure medicinal food, without alcohol or drugs.

COURT EDICT AS TO RHEUMATISM

Judge Barhost Testifies Rheuma Has Given Permanent Relief to Many.

No matter how many so-called remedies for rheumatism you have tried do not be skeptical about the wonderful curative power of Rheuma.

There is no other preparation like Rheuma. It goes to work so quickly as to leave no doubt in your mind of the ultimate successful and permanent relief. One dose daily acts on the diseased kidneys, blood and joints more readily than any other known remedy. It cleans out the "human sewers" and thus purifies the entire system.

"I, John Barhost, Justice of the Peace, of McLean Township, Ft. Loramie, Ohio, do certify that I was cured of a very bad case of rheumatism by using two bottles of Rheuma. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previous to using Rheuma I was a cripple, walking on crutches. I have advised Rheuma to at least a dozen persons and each one speaks as highly of it as I."

You can secure a bottle of Rheuma for only 50 cents of The People's Drug

GREEK KING POURS WRATH ON ALLIES

Denounces "High-Handedness" in Appeal to U. S.

BEEN DENIED A FAIR HEARING

Constantine Makes Indignant Protest Against Entente Actions and Says War Will be a Draw.

Athens, Jan. 21.—King Constantine sent for the American correspondents in order to express through the news papers of the United States, as he said, his profound indignation at what he termed "the unheard-of high-handedness of the recent action of the allies toward Greece."

King Constantine was greatly moved as he recited one after the other the long list of what he called "the allies' encroachments on the sovereignty of Greece culminating in the occupation of Corfu and the blowing up of the bridge at Demir Hissar."

"It is the merest cant," said the king, "for Great Britain and France to talk about the violation of the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg after what they themselves have done and are doing here. I have tried in every way I know how to get fair play in the British and French press, and to obtain a fair hearing from the British and French public."

"No sooner had the British news papers attacked Greece with the most amazing perversion of fact and misrepresentation of motives than I called one of their correspondents and gave him face-to-face a full statement of Greece's position."

"I have given a most frank statement to the French press through one of the French newspapers which had been most bitterly attacking Greece. The only forum of public opinion open to me is that of the United States."

"The situation is far too vital for me to care a snap about royal dignity in the matter of interviews when the very life of Greece as an independent country is at stake. I shall appeal to America again and again if necessary for that fair hearing which is denied to me by the countries of the allies."

"Just look at the list of Greek territory already occupied by the allies: troops—Lemnos, Imbros, Mytilene, Castellorizo, Corfu, Salonika, including the Chalcidice peninsula, and a large part of Macedonia. In proportion to all Greece it is as if that part of the United States which was won from Mexico after the Mexican war were occupied by foreign troops—and not so much as 'by your leave.' What matters that they promise to pay for the damage done when the war is over. They cannot pay for the sufferings of my people driven out of their homes. They plead military necessity. It was under the constraint of military necessity that Germany invaded Belgium and occupied Luxembourg."

"It is no good claiming that the neutrality of Greece was not guaranteed by the powers now violating it as was the case in Belgium for the neutrality of Corfu is guaranteed by Great Britain, France, Russia, Austria and Prussia and yet that has not made any difference in their action. And what about that plea of military necessity of destroying the Demir Hissar bridge, which cost a million and a half drachme ($200,000) and which was the only practicable route by which we can revictual my troops in eastern Macedonia?"

"Does your majesty believe that Germany can be victorious?" asked the correspondent.

"That depends," replied the king, "on what is meant by victorious. If you mean take London, Paris and Petrograd, probably not. But I believe the Entente can defend themselves where they are for a very long time. If economic exhaustion does not force Germany to sue for peace I believe it will be very difficult, if not impossible, to conquer her in a military way."

"Then what does your majesty think will be the outcome of the war?"

The king replied: "A draw—don't you?"

By royal order the above interview was countersigned by Court Marshal Merotti.

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY

Wilmingtonian Shoots Wife, Then Kills Man and Himself.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 21.—Prompted by his insane jealousy of his wife, Albert McDowell shot and killed Frank Couch, who was a roomer in the McDowell home, and then shot and killed himself.

He had first shot his wife through the leg, and she broke the other leg when she jumped from a second-story window to escape him. He threatened to kill Charles A. Brown, another roomer in the house, but spared him when he begged for his life. As soon as McDowell left Brown's room he called the police. McDowell shot himself just as the police rushed into the house.

Brown told the police that McDowell declared to him last Saturday that he was going to kill every one in the house, and so he, Brown, warned all the occupants to be on their guard against him.

BETHLEHEM STEEL DECLARES DIVIDEND

Common Stockholders to Get $30 Per Share.

New York, Jan. 21.—The Bethlehem Steel corporation declared a dividend of $30 a share on its common stock out of earnings of the year 1915, payable in quarterly installments.

This is the first disbursement of the corporation's profits that the common share holders have ever received. Last year's profits have been earned from immense orders for armament received from belligerent nations in Europe. It has been the announced policy of Charles M. Schwab, president of the corporation, to use surplus earnings after payment of the seven per cent preferred dividend for improvements upon the company's property. A few months ago Mr. Schwab was quoted as saying he was opposed to the payment of a common dividend for at least two years.

During the last six months the Bethlehem Steel common has been a sensational feature of the stock market. Early in January last year it was selling at 46 1/2, and by October had advanced to 60.

The corporation also announced an increase in wages of ten per cent for its unskilled labor, which went into effect, it was said, on January 16.

The dividend represents a distribution of approximately $4,500,000. Wall street estimates as to the company's earnings have ranged from 75 to 150 per cent.

FINE POSTOFFICE STRIKERS
Were Charged With Conspiracy to Delay the Mails.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 21.—Twenty-four employees of the Fairmount postoffice, indicted for conspiracy to delay the mails in connection with a strike which they precipitated last November, appeared in the United States district court and entered pleas of guilty.

The former assistant postmaster, W. H. Briland, was fined $500; A. H. Fleming, former postmaster, and Sylvester Clayton, a clerk, were each fined $250, and others were fined in amounts ranging from $100 to $50.

Seize 620 Bags of U. S. Mail.
Berlin, Jan. 21.—The long delay in the receipt of mails from the United States was explained by postal officials to inquiring Americans as being due to the British authorities. German officials said the British had seized 620 bags of mail, addressed to Holland, from the steamship Rotterdam, in order to cut off all letters intended for Germany.

VALUE OF CONCRETE ROADS.

Concrete roads built in the United States during 1914 cost on the average $11,921 a mile of sixteen foot width. One hundred and forty-four concrete roads built during the twenty years previous to 1914 cost $12,536 a mile of sixteen foot width. Most concrete roads are sixteen feet wide.

Upkeep and repair charges have been less than $25 a year for a concrete road built in 1914. It takes, on the average, twenty years ago. The yearly maintenance of the fifty-one miles of concrete roads in Wayne county, Mich., costs $28,434 a mile. It costs $18,332 a year to keep up a concrete road at Spencer, Mass.

Concrete roads are not affected by the weather, traffic or mud or trash tracked upon them, as is the case with some improved roads. Freezing and thawing have no effect on them if properly constructed. Heat does not soften them, nor cold make them brittle. Concrete increases in strength with age. Farm and Fireside.

Indorse County Road System.

The State Highway Officials' Association of New Mexico has indorsed the state highway commission and the county road board system. It was recommended that where necessary for the sake of harmony a member of the board of county commissioners be appointed on the road board. The United States department of agriculture was requested to make provisions for an advance of $2,000,000 annually for building roads in the national forests of New Mexico. Congress also was urged to pass a joint memorial granting 2,000,000 acres of public lands in New Mexico for highway purposes.

Without courage there cannot be truth, and without truth there can be no virtue.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WHOLESALE CAKES.

COCONUT DROP CAKES.
Cream well together one-half cupful butter and one cupful sugar. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs, then alternately one-half cupful milk and two cupfuls sifted flour. Beat until smooth. Add one scant teaspoonful vanilla, one-half teaspoonful salt, a heaping cupful of grated coconut, the stiffly whipped whites of the eggs and one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat for a moment and drop by the spoonful on well greased pans and bake in a quick oven. Shredded coconut is just as good as the grated.

Crumbs Cake. Two cupfuls bread crumbs, one-half cupful butter and lard, one large cupful white sugar, rub all together, take out one-half cupful and set aside; to the remainder add one cupful soft milk, one teaspoonful soda, one egg, one teaspoonful each cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg and vanilla, one cupful each raisins and currants. Bake in loaf after sprinkling the top with crumbs that were set aside.

Kisses.—One fourth pound butter, two egg cupfuls of sugar, one egg beaten in, three quarters cupful cornstarch, one and one-half cupfuls flour, a few drops of essence of lemon. Mix well together and beat till quite stiff. Drop off half teaspoonfuls on a greased pan. Cook in a hot oven about eight minutes, a golden brown. When cooked join the backs together with jam. These are nice in children's lunches or for afternoon tea.

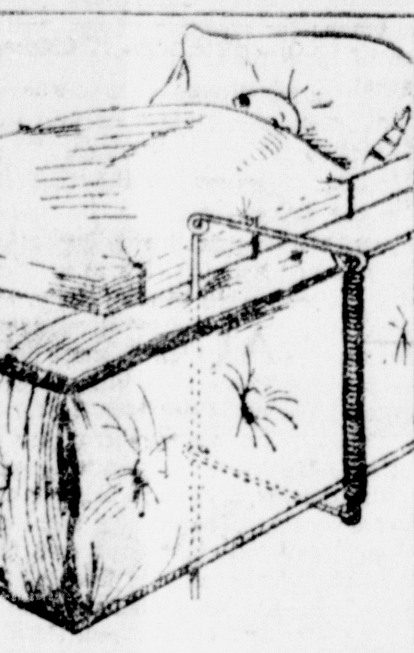

Coffee Whip.—Three large tablespoonfuls sugar, four tablespoonfuls of sweet one-half teaspoonful salt, two cupfuls of coffee and one-half teaspoonful vanilla, whites of two eggs. Mix dry ingredients together thoroughly. Moisten with a little bit of the coffee, then beat rest of the coffee slowly, mixing all smooth. Cook until thick, stirring often. Remove from stove, add flavoring and beat until spongy. Beat whites of eggs very stiff and stir lightly into mixture. Set away to cool. Serve with sugar and cream.

Plain Chocolate Cake.—One cupful bread flour or a little more of pastry flour. Salt, one cupful sugar, one good teaspoonful baking powder. Mix all these and sift. Melt in a cup one square of chocolate and a piece of butter same size. When cool break in two eggs and fill up the cup with milk. Pour all into the dry mixture and add flavoring if liked. Beat well. Bake in a bread tin and frost with a white frosting.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Safety Pin That Holds Baby Bedclothes In Place.

The baby will not kick out of the bedclothes if pinned in with the big safety pin which has been recently invented for this purpose. It is an extremely simple modification of the safety pin which permits of its being thrust entirely through the bedclothing and mattress and after being put in place is held there secure against accidental removal by the action of a spring which holds the point in engagement with an arm of the device which passes under the mattress. The device is also suited for bedridden persons who must be protected from exposure.

Turkey With Oyster Gravy.

Dress, clean and stuff the turkey with following dressing: Three cupfuls of stale bread-crumbs, one cupful of walnuts chopped fine, one-half cupful of chopped celery, one cupful of chopped apples, two eggs, one cupful of pork sausage, one-fourth teaspoonful of sage, salt and pepper. When stuffed rub turkey with salt and one-third cupful of butter and one-fourth cupful of flour mixed together until creamy. Place on rack in dripping pan in hot oven. Bake every fifteen minutes with hot water and butter. Garnish fowl with celery ribs and serve with oyster gravy. Oyster Gravy.—Remove turkey from pan and add one fourth cupful of flour. Stir out all lumps and add one pint of oysters. Cook until oysters are plump and add salt and pepper. Thin mixture with cream or milk if too thick.

Cranberry Meringue.

Beat separately the whites and yolks of three eggs, then beat them together with one-half cupful of sifted granulated sugar and the juice of one small lemon; sift one-half teaspoonful of baking powder and one-half cupful of flour; bake in a long pan. Make a sauce of one cupful of cranberries, one cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of water. Put the cake when baked on a platter and spread the cooked sauce over it. If jelly is prepared strain the sauce and spread the jelly thus obtained over the cake. Beat one egg with one-half cupful of powdered sugar until it is creamed; spread on top of berries and serve cold.

Suet Pudding.

One cupful of suet chopped fine, one cupful of sweet milk, two cupfuls of seeded raisins, one cupful of molasses, two cupfuls of flour, one cupful of currants, one-quarter cupful each of oil, rum, lemon and orange peel, one teaspoonful each of soda, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Steam two hours. Pudding Sauce.—Two tablespoonfuls of flour, butter the size of an egg and sugar, one-half cupful. Rub together well, then add sufficient boiling water to make it the right consistency. Finish with lemon.

Baked Ham Stuffed.

Boil ham overnight until so tender that the bone may be forced out. Set to cool in liquid. Draw out the bone then take the skin off and stick thickly with whole cloves. Gash deeply through the fat and down into the meat and fill the gashes and hole from which the bone was drawn with stuffing made of two eggs, cornbread crumbs, brown sugar and black pepper. Bake for an hour and a half in slow oven.

Beet and Celery Salad.

Chop fine one pint of boiled beets and spread on crisp lettuce leaves over this put celery squares or cubes and then halves of walnuts and boiled eggs; cover all with mayonnaise dressing.

Just Estimate.
"The partnership is despised by everybody," philosophically stated Professor Pate. "It is of no account, either in a decorative or gastronomic way. It neither inebriates nor cheers humanity. And yet nobody dares denounce it as a nuisance and an excrement. It has simply got in its bluff, and remains in good society because nobody has the nerve to bump it out."—Kansas City Star.

Best in Education.
When you ask me what counts most in education I have no hesitation in putting to the front good health. The next desideratum is proper manners and morals; in a word, suitable habits. The next thing in the education of anybody, man or woman, is the ability to engage in useful occupation. This leads me to my fourth point, the appreciation of what is best in life.—Dean Russell.

Foods Rich in Proteids.
The reason why all forms of meat, cheese and eggs form so satisfying a diet is not because they are rich in calories but because they are rich in proteid. In order to be properly nourished, one may paraphrase the famous proverb, "Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves," and make it read, "Take care of the proteid and the calories will take care of themselves."

Circumstances.
Believe only that your circumstances are those most suited to develop your characters. They have been selected out of all possible combinations of events and conditions, in order to effect in you the highest finish of usefulness and beauty; they would have been the ones selected by you, if all the wide range of omniscient knowledge had been within reach.—F. B. Meyer.

The Man and His Clothes

What is the score?

How is the market?

What is the weather outlook?

When a man wants to know anything of these things he turns to his newspaper. It is his reference book. What is more natural than he should refer to it when he wants to buy clothes?

Several manufacturers of branded clothing have been shrewd enough to see this and have advertised their trade mark in the newspapers. This advertising has caused in directly over the counter of the dealer, as the latter has been only too glad to co-operate in pushing sales—for he believes in newspapers.

The Unexpected in Table Damasks and Napkins all at Old Prices.

G. W. WEAVER & SON.

We are showing now a stock of good new style, clean made Muslin Underwear, at prices from 15 to 20 per cent. less than for similar goods if ordered now. It will pay to buy for a season's needs.

Should you desire to make up Underwear at home we can furnish you the right materials at a saving, for the reason that we placed large orders months ago at July prices.

From orders placed at the time of the Mill clean up, we are now offering 150 Counterpanes of All Sizes, Crochet, Satin Finish, Marseilles &c., Square and Cut Corners, at prices which positively better those we gave in early Fall. While this lot lasts, no advance.

We are glad to be able to say that we are in a position to furnish all widths of Sheet and Pillow Muslins, all sizes of Sheets and Pillow Cases, either made up or by the yard at old prices. A number of grades in every width.

50 Pieces 32 in Renfrew Gingham, New Plaids, Checks and Stripes, sun and tub proof at 12 1-2 cents. (price should be 15 cents.) 50 pieces Bates Seersucker Gingham 12c. 60 Pcs. Assorted makes at 8 & 10 cts. A Gingham costs a little more than Calico but wears twice as long.

These wonderfully sturdy weaves for use for boys and girls of any age, as well for grown ups, are here in full assortments and at old prices, and in some instances at less than the makers advertised prices. Yard wide Percales at 9 & 12 1-2 cts.

Belgian and Irish Linen Weaves in which we over bought last Spring. A saving of a fourth over this year's prices.

A White year, or season is expected and the makers have outdone themselves in originating designs and weaves. Our orders are much in excess of any previous year for January, and as the scarcity has prevented us showing our completed purchase now, they are straggling in and even at that we are now showing more patterns and weaves than we have ever been able to show before.

Many of our November and December purchases for February and March deliveries are now in stock in advance of original desires. Styles are the very newest and values are exceptional. We are quite sure that at no time later will we be able to duplicate these prices.

A delayed Import has brought us 10 pieces of Damasks and 80 dozen Napkins to match, identically the old quality that we always sold at $1.00, $1.25 & $1.50 per yard, in the best of patterns. This cannot happen again until flax raising and linen weaving gets back to normal.

AN EPISODE OF THE CIVIL WAR

Brave Officer Revenges Insult of His Superior.

Among the generals of the civil war there were those who had received a military education, those who won their promotion from a natural fitness for command, and politicians. General Hunkins belonged to the last class. In the army formation he was assigned the command of a division and first turned his attention to keeping in due subjection all inferiors who might dim his own luster by distinguishing themselves. The man he most dreaded was young Colonel Reckling, who had entered the army from civil life.

Two armies were confronting each other. Hunkins' division was on the right, Colonel Reckling's brigade on the extreme left. The enemy resolved to turn the Union right flank and hurled a whole division against Reckling's brigade. Reckling held his position long enough for Hunkins to send him reinforcements, but Hunkins did nothing of the kind. He watched the fighting from an eminence and saw the remnant of Reckling's brigade driven like dust before a hurricane. The Union army fell back to a stronger position. When quiet was restored Hunkins rode up to Reckling and reprimanded him for not holding his position, implying cowardice.

There is little or no redress in the army against such an imputation by a superior officer, certainly not in face of an enemy. Colonel Reckling would have challenged the man who had insulted him, but the day of dueling had passed, and a challenge sent to a superior officer would have been considered mutiny. Nevertheless a duel between these two officers took place, and this is how Colonel Reckling managed it:

One morning shortly after daylight he rode up to his commander's headquarters and, rousing the general, said: "I think the enemy is meditating an important move. If you will ride out with me to the picket line I'll show you what I mean."

Hunkins proposed to send his chief of staff, but Reckling insisted that he should see for himself. So the general called his escort, and the two officers rode to the picket line.

"We must go farther," said Reckling. "I would suggest that the escort remain here so as not to draw the fire."

"But," said the general, showing extreme reluctance to go on.

"General!" exclaimed Reckling in feigned surprise.

The general dare not refuse with twenty cavalrymen looking on. He rode with his inferior a few hundred yards to a low fence, over which Reckling jumped his horse. Hunkins, knowing the eyes of the escort were upon him, dared not refuse to follow. He was about to protest against this approach to the enemy's rifle as unnecessary exposure when he noticed a curl on Reckling's lip. He saw the latter's design, but he must either follow or lose that respect of his men which was necessary to command.

A muffled bullet sang between the two men. The general ducked. Another and another. The colonel pushed on, the general a few paces behind him. More straggling shots.

"I see no change in the situation," said the general. "Let us go back."

"Not here," said Reckling; "not here. Farther to your left. I think they are massing a force on our right, just as they did the other day. They can't get at us on our left for the river and the hill, where we have thrown up the earthworks."

"But we are not going to our right. We're going straight toward their right center."

"Well turn presently."

"How much farther have we to go?" asked the general in a few moments.

"We must ride along in front of their line till we reach that wood on our left."

Putting spurs to his horse, Reckling started straight toward the enemy's lines. At the same moment a storm of bullets whistled by the two men. Hunkins could not stand the test. He turned and rode back as fast as his horse could carry him.

Bravery wins respect even from an enemy. The Confederates, wondering, watched Reckling coming. Presently he turned and rode slowly along the front of their line. Not a shot was fired. It was an eighth of a mile to cover, and as the soldier passed over the distance and entered the wood a cheer went up from the Union soldiers and the Confederates, who were too admiring to shoot so gallant a man.

When the general joined his escort he knew that his military career had ended. But his aptitude for a different field saved him in that field. He sent home one of his henchmen, who was serving on his staff, with instructions to write up the general's remarkable service in the army and create a demand among the people that he return and run for congress. The henchman played his part well, and just as the singular duel between Hunkins and Reckling came to the ears of the general commanding the army corps in which the duelists served Hunkins forwarded his resignation. It was accepted, and Hunkins returned to the field for which he was best fitted and made an eminently successful campaign.

Reckling was made a brigadier general and placed in command of the division. He was soon promoted for gallantry to a higher rank and command.

Couldn't Blame Him. Clergyman—"Do you mean to say that your wife goes to church every Sunday without you?" Husband—"Yes, but it isn't my fault. I can't persuade her to stay home."—Boston Transcript.

(Medical Advertising) "FAGGED-OUT" WOMEN

Will Find a Helpful Suggestion in This Letter.

Overworked, run-down "fagged out" women who feel as though they could hardly drag about, should profit by Mrs. Carter's experience. She says:—"I am the mother of six children and I got so weak and run-down that I couldn't eat anything and it seemed almost impossible for me to get around and do my work. I tried different doctors' remedies without benefit. I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and received so much benefit from the first bottle that I continued to take it, and it has built up my strength and made me strong and well. I consider Vinol the best medicine I have ever taken, and advise all weak, run-down women to try it." Mrs. Bessie Carter, State Road, N. C.

If all the tired, overworked, run-down women in Gettysburg could only realize how our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol, supplies the vital elements necessary to build up blood and strength, we wouldn't be able to supply the demand. For Sale by People's Drug Store.

COMMITTEE WILL VISIT FACTORIES

Leave to Attend Demonstrations of Automobile Fire Apparatus. Invited by Company's Special Agents.

To get first hand information on the merits of the automobile fire engines on which bids were submitted last Thursday, the joint committee of councilmen, firemen, and citizens, left Gettysburg Sunday evening intending to visit Elmira, New York, and Philadelphia, before their return.

In the party were, James McDonnell, and Harry Geiselman, of the property committee of the council; Allan B. Plank and Charles H. Wilson, of the fire company; and George F. Eberhart and J. A. Lentz, citizens who were asked to co-operate with the others.

This general committee received invitations recently to go to the plants of several of the companies bidding on machines, but refused to accept any such invitation until the representatives had submitted their bids and presented their claims to the council. In this way a guarantee of fair dealing to all firms, as well as to the town, was assured. Now that the bids have been presented and are on file there can be no objection from any source to the committee accepting the hospitality of the companies which seek to supply Gettysburg with the motor driven apparatus.

The first place to be visited is the plant of the American La France Fire Engine Company at Elmira, New York, where a special demonstration was given for the Gettysburg committee to-day. This company furnishes "General Menzies", the Silsby engine which has now done service for thirty years. The company claims to make and sell three fourths of all the fire apparatus produced in the United States.

This evening the committee goes to Philadelphia where the Boyd manufacturing company has its large factory. Two men presented the claims of this company last Thursday evening and later extended an invitation to come to their plant to witness a demonstration of one of their engines in action. It is expected that this demonstration will be held on Tuesday.

The committee, it is understood, will not confine itself to the working of the La France and Boyd engines during their trip but will endeavor to secure from firemen, in the cities to be visited, expressions of opinion on the various kinds of engines on which bids are now before the council.

MAY ESTABLISH MEMORIALS HERE

Would Put Tablets to Memory of Loved Ones in New College Building. Contributors to Have Privilege.

The Woman's League of the college has already taken the first step towards the securing of funds for the $30,000 Y. M. C. A. building they have decided to erect on the college campus. The executive committee of the league has just sent a letter to each member of which the following is a part:

In the new building we propose having a room called Memory Hall on the walls of which will be placed large beautiful commemorative bronze tablets. The donor of $1,000 or more to the building fund will have the privilege of inscribing on such a tablet data and sentiments in memory of departed loved ones. There will be one such tablet for each donor in this class.

On one large tablet in this Memory Hall there will be inscribed the names of all who contribute $100 or more.

In this Memory Hall there will be kept a "Golden Book" of memory. Donors of $10 or more to the building fund will have the privilege of inscribing in this book the names of dead loved ones whom they wish to honor by thus keeping their memories ever fresh.

In the box to be placed in the cornerstone of the proposed building there will be deposited lists containing the names of all who have contributed $1 or more toward its erection. No member should be satisfied with less than twenty five names on her cornerstone list.

Every member, in addition to giving something herself, can secure contributions from her friends for the most worthy cause. It will take some time and effort but it will be well worth while.

QUICKLY MADE RECORD

Gettysburg Boy Distinguishes himself in Marine Corps.

In an official bulletin issued by Headquarters, United States Marine Corps, Washington, appears the name of George L. Minnigh, of this place, as having qualified as a marksman in that most interesting branch of the Government service.

George, who is a son of Mrs. Annie O'Reilly, 331 York street, Gettysburg, enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its Baltimore recruiting station on July 23, 1915, and is now serving with the expeditionary force of marines landed in Haiti for the protection of American interests in that war-torn little island.

Considering the fact that Minnigh is scarcely more than a recruit, his performance in gunnery is considered by Marine Corps officials as little short of marvelous, and they expect him to break many marksmanship records before his enlistment expires.

FARMER KILLED IN THURMONT POST DRIVING ACCIDENT OFFICE ROBBED

Believe Horse Frightened by Reading Train. Overturned Wagon and Dead Body Found by a Neighbor.

Royal Myers, tenant on the farm of John Cocklin, near Bowersdale, was found dead near the William Rose farm, just east of Dillsburg Saturday evening about 7 o'clock by John Kline, a neighbor farmer.

Death, it is thought, was caused through internal injuries sustained in an accident on his way home from market. Mr. Myers was found lying beside his market wagon, which was badly dilapidated, mute evidence of the fact that an accident had taken place. The horse, however, was also standing near the wagon. It is conjectured that Myers, who sometimes hung the lines about his neck when returning home late from the Central market, at Harrisburg, pursued the same practice this time, fell into a dose, and the horse running away threw Myers from the wagon.

It was discovered by Mr. Kline, who found the dead man, that the shafts of the wagon were both broken at the intersection of the cross piece. There is also current the rumor that when Myers crossed the tracks of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad he had already fallen into a dose, and that a train due about the time he crossed the tracks, frightened the horse, causing it to run away.

Kline was also on his way home from attending a market at Harrisburg, it is said, and when he neared the William Rose farm, noticed a market wagon by the roadside that had been upset. After dismounting from his wagon he discovered Myers lying by the side of the wagon, dead. He immediately summoned a number of farmers in the vicinity and notified the family, after which the body was removed to the John Cocklin farm, where he was a tenant farmer.

He was aged about sixty five years and is survived by his wife and six children. The funeral services will be conducted at the residence of his son, Parker Myers, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Burial in the cemetery adjoining the Franklin church.

MANY FRIENDS HERE

Keen Regret Felt over Death of Catholic Church Bishop.

The news of the death of Bishop Shanahan at Lancaster on Saturday was received with genuine sorrow in Gettysburg and throughout the county, where he had been a frequent visitor in connection with his duties as head of the Harrisburg Diocese of the Roman Catholic church. Bishop Shanahan took a very keen interest in the welfare of all the churches in this county, as he did in all those under his supervision. He frequently attended the commencement exercises of the local parochial schools and several times made an address at these annual events. He was known personally by many members of the congregation here with whom he was a great favorite.

Rev. W. F. Boyle will be one of the pall bearers at the funeral which will be held in Harrisburg on Wednesday. The altars and the exterior of St. Francis Xavier church will be draped in black for a period of thirty days.

Information contained in the copper urn holding his ashes said that he had died on January 18.

Burglary there Follows Similar Deed at Red Lion. Thieves Get but Small Reward for their Efforts.

Yeggmen entered the Thurmont post office, which is located in the center of the residential and business section of the town, and blew two safes shortly after two o'clock Sunday morning.

The charge of nitro-glycerin failed to open entirely the door of the big post office safe and, probably fearing the noise would bring out the residents of the town, the robbers did not stop to obtain loot of any value. There was nothing of value in the small safe.

B. Harbaugh, telegraph operator of the Western Maryland, stationed at Thurmont, says that he saw two men walk toward Thurmont at about two o'clock. Later he heard two muffled explosions, but did not connect them with the two men. Half a dozen persons who reside near the post office said Sunday evening that they distinctly heard two explosions about five minutes apart, but thought these were firecrackers.

The postmaster, Joseph C. Gernand, said there was but little in the safe with the exception of stamps, the receipts having been deposited in the bank early Saturday evening. Inspector Porridge, of Washington, visited the scene Sunday evening. No arrests have been made.

It is supposed that the gang at Thurmont was the same as that which entered the Red Lion post office Saturday morning and blew open the safe but secured only a small sum in stamps, though the safe held considerable money. The outer door was blown off but the thieves beat a retreat before going farther as their first attempt had resulted in a terrific noise.

WM. ROSS WHITE

Prominent Farmer and Former Representative in Legislature.

William Ross White died at his home in Liberty township, at 5:30, Sunday morning from pleurisy and complications aged 86 years and 19 days.

Mr. White was a son of the late Andrew and Joanna (Ross) White and was born at the old White homestead in Freedom township on January 31, 1830. He spent his entire life as a farmer in Freedom and Liberty townships.

He represented Adams County in the State Legislature for one term, being elected in 1878. He held the office of justice of the peace for many years and was a director in the Adams County Mutual Fire Insurance company, resigning that office only a few years ago.

His wife, who died in 1907, was Miss Anna M. Horner, a daughter of the late Eli Horner. He leaves three children, Mrs. Flora Batch, Winfield, Kansas; Mrs. Andrew A. Annan, and Mrs. Isaac Motter Annan, Emmitsburg; Mrs. John Reed Scott, Gettysburg; and Walter W. White, at home. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. William Reed, Fairfield, and a brother, A. F. White, ex-associate judge, Freedom township.

U. S. TO SILENCE VON BERNSTORFF

Publicity Intrigue May Cause Recall of Envoy.

MISREPRESENTED TO PUBLIC

"Certain Ambassador" to be Sent Home as Activities Do Not Cease, Says State Department Official.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A feeling of deep resentment against the publicity methods of the German embassy is evident in high official circles, and it was broadly intimated that the administration had found the efforts of the embassy to influence public opinion misleading and unfair.

An official of the state department even went so far as to say that if a curb was not put on these activities "a certain ambassador" would be sent home.

President Wilson and Robert Lansing, secretary of state, are both understood to be greatly irritated by the activities of the German embassy. Administration officials say, that the embassy has been spreading impressions misrepresenting the attitude of President Wilson and his advisers on the question of armed merchantmen and submarine policy.

The Lusitania case is cited as a good example of the unfair publicity methods. Count von Bernstorff is known to have requested Mr. Lansing to keep the Lusitania negotiations secret, and Mr. Lansing agreed, pledging secrecy on his part and likewise receiving a pledge of secrecy from the German ambassador. It is now alleged that a certain German embassy official used the information he obtained in his talks with Mr. Lansing to inspire press despatches which went from Washington all over the United States and gave an impression concerning the negotiations and important developments that was entirely misleading and has proved embarrassing to the administration.

To show the effect of this propaganda it was asserted that the American people were prepared through the despatches for the acquiescence of this government in the proposed German submarine warfare against armed merchantmen.

Recent developments show that the United States has no intention of recognizing as legal the new Teutonic submarine warfare proposals.

NEW COMPENSATION CASE

School Board Refuses to Pay for Boy Hurt in School.

Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 21.—A new condition was presented here when the school board of the town was asked to pay the expenses of a physician who attended Joel Bernhard, a son of Rev. G. R. Bernhard, who was injured in the manual training department of the high school.

The boy was sawing a piece of board on a circular saw, when he got his hand in front of the blade and his fingers were cut to the bone and may have to be removed. It was found on investigation by the board that he used the machine without permission during the absence of the teacher, and they declined to meet the expense.

RUSSIANS SMASH TURKISH DEFENSE

Moslems, Unable to Stem the Tide, Flee.

Petrograd, Feb. 21.—The Russians are pressing the advantage gained at Erzerum on both flanks.

On the right flank, along the Black sea coast, by the co-operation of the sea and land forces they are driving the Turks from one position after another to the east of Trebizond, and it is expected that active operations against that important seaport will not long be deferred.

In the last two days the Russians have occupied Witke (Widje) and pressed forward ten or twelve miles westward. The fleet has destroyed in succession several shore batteries which might have been of assistance to the Turks, and by co-operating well in advance of the land forces and destroying bridges over streams in the path of retreating Turks, has rendered their retreat most difficult.

The fleet has been working so close to the shore that the warships have been reached by rifle fire from the Turkish troops. On the other hand, the ships have spread confusion in the ranks of the Turks by dropping shells among them.

On the left flank, after the occupation of Koph, the Russians pushed on to Mush and Achlat, the latter on the north shore of lake Van. From Koph to Mush, sixty miles over mountain roads, they fought several battles and occupied Mush by storm.

TAKE BRITISH TRENCHES

Germans Storm Position 350 Yards Long on Yser Canal.

Berlin, Feb. 21.—A British position 350 yards long on the Yser canal, north of Ypres, has been stormed by German troops, army headquarters announced. British attempts to retake the trenches failed.

South of Loos the British advanced to the edge of one of the German mine craters. The official statement follows:

"On the Yser canal, north of Ypres, an English position 350 meters long, was stormed by Germans. All the British attempts to retake the trenches by night hand grenade attacks failed. The Germans took twenty prisoners.

"South of Loos, in lively engagements, the enemy advanced to the edge of one of the German mine craters.

"North of Hebuterne, to the north of Albert, the Germans obtained a minor success in a night engagement, taking several English prisoners.

"In an air fight east of Peronne, an English biplane, armed with two machine guns, was shot down. Its occupants were killed.

"German airmen threw bombs on numerous places behind the enemy's northern front and at Luneville."

4 AEROPLANES RAID ENGLAND

Two Killed and One Hurt in Coast Towns.

BUILDINGS ARE DESTROYED

Bomb Shatters Windows of Church as Congregation Sings "Te Deum." Airships Attacked in Paris.

London, Feb. 21.—Four German seaplanes Sunday made a raid over the east and southeast coasts of England, according to an official announcement.

The total casualties are given as two men and one boy killed and one marine wounded. Considerable material damage was done. The official communication says:

"Four German seaplanes made a raid over the east and southeast coasts at noon.

"The first raiders, two biplanes, appeared over Lowestoft at 10:55 A. M., and circled over the south side of the town for five minutes and dropped bombs. In about five minutes they rose to a great height and seemingly vanished. At 11:10 A. M. the two seaplanes were over the town and then vanished eastward again.

"Altogether seventeen small high explosive bombs were dropped. There were no casualties. Considerable damage was done to the outbuildings of a restaurant and to two dwelling houses. Two naval seaplanes went up at 11:05 A. M. and pursued the raiders, but without result.

"Meanwhile two other German seaplanes were making for the Kentish coast. The first passed over the Kentish Knock light vessel, dropping bombs in that vicinity at 11:20 A. M. The last raider made straight for Walmer. Reaching that town at 11:27 A. M., flying at less than 2500 feet, it dropped six bombs and turned sharply to the east.

"Two of the bombs that fell destroyed roofs and broke windows in the neighborhood. One of them fell close to a church, blowing in the windows as the congregation was singing 'Te Deum.' A third bomb fell on a road-way running along the beach, killing one civilian and injuring one marine.

"The total casualties were two men and one boy killed and one marine wounded.

"Two of our aeroplanes which went to Dover pursued the raider, but apparently could not overtake him."

30 Bombs Dropped on Austrians.

Paris, Feb. 21.—Information prints a despatch from Basil, Switzerland, giving Vienna newspapers as authority for the statement that a large Russian aeroplane, carrying four aviators, dropped thirty bombs on Austrian staff headquarters.

MAKES UNION COUNTY DRY

License Court Decision Scores Eleventh Time Against Wets.

Lewisburg, Pa., Feb. 21.—Union county will be added to the list of ten other dry counties in Pennsylvania on April 1, as Judge Johnson and Associate Judges Rowe and Diefenderfer, at license court refused the applications of the Cameron House and Baker House, both located in Lewisburg, the only applicants for licenses in the county.

Both of these hotels have had licenses thirty years or more, and are hotels with good reputations, but the sentiment of the people carried the day with the judges.

In this town of 3000 population 1070 persons of voting age signed remonstrances, and after hearing both sides the three judges discussed the cases for nearly an hour before giving their decision. When it was announced there was a big demonstration by the dry element.

Sully Wins a Big Verdict Against John Hays Hammond.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Daniel J. Sully, of New York, was awarded $30,000 damages in his suit against John Hays Hammond of this city, who, he claimed, attempted to destroy his reputation as a cartoon expert.

A sealed verdict was given by a jury in the District of Columbia supreme court.

The trial, which occupied five weeks, was made necessary by a mistrial about a year ago. Sully sued for $1,500,000 damages.

Warship for Milk Delivery.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Dr. Edmund von Mach, executive chairman of the citizens' committee for food shipment, of New York, asked Secretary Daniels to send a naval vessel to Germany with milk for babies. BILLY SUNDAY QUILTS TRENTON

Contributions to Evangelist Amounts to $32,358.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21.—If Rev. Billy Sunday's tabernacle in Trenton had been built to accommodate 30,000 persons instead of 14,000, it would probably have been insufficient to hold with comfort the crowds which flocked to hear the evangelist during his last day in the city.

From the time Billy appeared at the morning services till he said his last good-byes at nine o'clock, the tabernacle had been the scene of almost continuous services. When Billy wasn't there to preach the choir and the crowds were there to sing, and no sooner was one service ended than the tabernacle would begin to fill for another. Many spent hours seeking to gain admission and thousands were turned away.

Trenton's free-will offering to Billy totaled $32,358.03; the total number of trail blisters in the campaign was 16,678.

Before going Billy thanked the people of Trenton generally and all who had participated in any way in the campaign. From the tabernacle he drove directly home and prepared for his journey to Winona Lake, Ind. A through western train passing Trenton at 9:50 was stopped by the Pennsylvania railroad to take Billy and his party to Indiana.

For Polishing Glass.

Calcined magnesite, rubbed down with pure benzine, makes an excellent preparation for cleaning and polishing the surfaces of fine glass, such as costly mirrors, etc. The mass formed must be sufficiently soft to allow drops of the liquid to be squeezed out of it. The mixture should be kept in closely stoppered bottles, and, in use, a little of it is placed on a bit of cotton or a soft rag with which the glass is rubbed.

Had All He Wanted.

The worthy old sportsman had asked, out of the kindness of his heart, a few subalterns to shoot his birds. He passed a weary afternoon. When evening came the old man examined himself carefully to make sure he really had escaped pepping. "Temporary officers," said he, "are all right in their way; temporary gentlemen we have to put up with, but heaven save me from any more temporary sportsmen."

PLEASE BE FAIR

Report is current that Tyson Brothers, Incorporated, will buy most of the stock and machinery at the CHARLES J. TYSON ESTATE SALE
Wednesday, February 23d, 1916,

WHICH IS

ABSOLUTELY UNTRUE

In the FIRST place Tyson Brothers have bought a gasoline tractor which will replace six or eight mules.
In the SECOND place Tyson Brothers will cut out most of the general farming and trucking which means a lot of machinery.
In the THIRD place Tyson Brothers will not buy anything unless it looks cheap to them, because they are in position to buy practically all their requirements at lowest wholesale prices.

Now to be

FRANK AND PERSONAL

I find that some of my best friends do not expect to bid on any article on which they see me bidding because they feel that I have "FIRST RIGHT".

They mean to be kind but in reality would be both unkind and unfair because under such conditions I would hesitate to bid on anything I did want for fear of spoiling the sale. I will therefore take it as a

PERSONAL FAVOR

If all my friends will bid against me with perfect freedom exactly as they would at any other sale.

SOFT COAL MEN THURSDAY

President White, of the Union, Believes a Compromise Agreement on Demands Will be Reached.

New York, Feb. 21.—Representatives of the United Mine Workers of America and of the coal miner operators met at the Hotel McAlpine this morning to try and reach an agreement by which they may go on amicably working together after March 31, when the agreement now existing will expire.

During the first part of the week the anthracite miners and operators will endeavor to conclude their business. Beginning Thursday, the bituminous miners and operators will endeavor to conclude their business. Beginning Thursday, the bituminous miners and operators, who have been holding a convention in Mobile without success will continue their efforts toward an understanding here.

The miners are asking an eight-hour day, recognition of their union and case of the anthracite workers a twenty per cent increase in wages. The bituminous workers are seeking a ten per cent increase. There are other issues at stake, but they are of minor importance.

John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers, who established headquarters at the Continental Hotel, issued a statement covering the demands of the miners and explaining why increased wages are essential to their existence. He was not hopeful that the operators will agree to the demands already drawn up, but he does believe that an ultimate compromise can be reached.

The operators have signified in a recent publicity campaign that it will be impossible for them to grant the two chief demands, namely higher wages and shorter hours, without increasing the retail price of coal considerably. Already they have informally refused to grant the demands. They explain that a complete acceptance of the requests made by the miners would mean an increase of $22,000,000 in the cost of mining coal, or about thirty cents a ton.

Despite the fact that there is likely to be something like a deadlock from the very beginning of the conference, Mr. White does not think that a general strike will have to be called. He explains that the union has adopted a non-suspension policy, which means that so long as there is hope of a settlement a strike will not be ordered.

The miners acknowledge that the operators cannot pay them more money and continue to make the same profits without increasing the retail price, but they base their argument for a right to higher wages on the ground that the owning companies have been making more than is their just share.

DIES SAVING BOY FROM AUTOMOBILE

Man Gives Life Rescuing Lad in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—A man believed to be Henry Bennett, of New York, sacrificed his own life that he might save a newsboy from death under an automobile at Broad and Walnut streets.

The man emerged from the Ritz-Carlton and was headed west across Broad street when he passed a boy staggering under the burden of his supply of Sunday papers. The boy did not see the approaching automobile and plunged ahead, but the man saw the youngster's danger and stepped back, although he must have known the car could not stop in its own length. Directly in its path he seized the newsboy and swung him out of harm's way just as the automobile struck him.

In the car were Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Morton, the former a prominent Philadelphia merchant. They ordered the chauffeur to life the injured man into the tonneau, and five minutes later he was on an operating table at a nearby hospital. He died, however, without regaining consciousness.

The chauffeur was locked up with the sheriff and the prisoners escaped in the car, after first looting the militia armory for rifles and ammunition.

Later the sheriff secured his release and with a posse followed the prisoners. In a battle the sheriff was killed.

Comb Sage Tea In Hair To Darken It

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair.

Poor Quality Is Never Cheap

Value is proven by time--not the price you pay.

And that axiom applies to practically every article of merchandise.

It is economy to seek standards of quality--and for this reason many advertised brands of goods have large sales.

The quality back of the "brand names" must be sustained.

The names are an asset that means business good-will--an asset built on character and fairness of price.

Study the advertising in The Times and note where good quality and fair prices go hand in hand.

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 Cents

If everything was sold in as liberal a manner as The People's Drug Store are selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say—"Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador, if it does not give satisfaction, or if not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money?

In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonful, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonful) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine, or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee as Schiffmann's famous Asthmador of "Money Back" if not perfectly satisfactory. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, St. Paul, Minn.

Washington's Birthday, February 22

A RARE combination of statesmanship and military genius; an unusual embodiment of tenacity, unshakable courage; a keen and militant sense of justice; these were the great virtues of George Washington.

They represent the spirit of fairness which we should strive for in our business relations which should manifest itself in the sale of good merchandise, in the giving of values, in the guarantee of satisfaction. In that spirit we are trying to run this store.
